Jette Black (JB) is an interdisciplinary visual artist, independent filmmaker and storyteller, creating work primarily within the horror genre. She began her academic career in Media and Cinema Studies at the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign, and is currently enrolled at Columbia College Chicago, completing her BA in Film and Television. Her passion for storytelling is evident in the varied creative outlets she pursues, including screenwriting, production design, and acting.